

Happy Easter?

Happy Easter?

Happy Easter?

Happy Easter?

Why did the Easter bunny stop celebrating Easter?

He had no more “ears” left to live.

Have you ever thought about why you celebrate Easter? More importantly, have you ever thought about how many more years you have left to live? Most of us love eating chocolate eggs but very few of us love thinking about what happens when we die – and while the Easter bunny isn't real, death is very real. So, where will you spend eternity? Here's how you can know for sure - ask yourself if you have kept God's moral Law, the Ten Commandments: How many lies have you told? Have you ever stolen anything? Have you ever used God's name in vain? That's called blasphemy. Have you ever held anger against someone in your heart? Do you know that God sees that as murder of the heart? If you have done these things, then God sees you as a lying, thieving, blasphemous, murderer-at-heart. What will you say on Judgment Day? Your conscience confirms that you are guilty. If you are found guilty of breaking God's Laws, your punishment will be eternity in Hell. Does that concern you? It should. There is good news, though! God came to this earth in the person of Jesus Christ to suffer and take God's wrath against you and your sin upon Himself. He suffered and died on a cross in your place, and then He rose again to new life three days later. You broke God's Law, and Jesus paid your fine! That's God's gift to you! You cannot earn a gift—you can only receive it with gratitude. To receive this gift, God commands you to repent (turn from your sins) and place your faith in Jesus Christ alone to save you. Please do that today; you may not have tomorrow. When you do, your eternal destination will be certain—Heaven. That's the real reason why Easter is worth celebrating! So, what started as a really “hare-raising” joke has ended with an “egg-cellent” Easter message!

Why did the Easter bunny stop celebrating Easter?

He had no more “ears” left to live.

Have you ever thought about why you celebrate Easter? More importantly, have you ever thought about how many more years you have left to live? Most of us love eating chocolate eggs but very few of us love thinking about what happens when we die – and while the Easter bunny isn't real, death is very real. So, where will you spend eternity? Here's how you can know for sure - ask yourself if you have kept God's moral Law, the Ten Commandments: How many lies have you told? Have you ever stolen anything? Have you ever used God's name in vain? That's called blasphemy. Have you ever held anger against someone in your heart? Do you know that God sees that as murder of the heart? If you have done these things, then God sees you as a lying, thieving, blasphemous, murderer-at-heart. What will you say on Judgment Day? Your conscience confirms that you are guilty. If you are found guilty of breaking God's Laws, your punishment will be eternity in Hell. Does that concern you? It should. There is good news, though! God came to this earth in the person of Jesus Christ to suffer and take God's wrath against you and your sin upon Himself. He suffered and died on a cross in your place, and then He rose again to new life three days later. You broke God's Law, and Jesus paid your fine! That's God's gift to you! You cannot earn a gift—you can only receive it with gratitude. To receive this gift, God commands you to repent (turn from your sins) and place your faith in Jesus Christ alone to save you. Please do that today; you may not have tomorrow. When you do, your eternal destination will be certain—Heaven. That's the real reason why Easter is worth celebrating! So, what started as a really “hare-raising” joke has ended with an “egg-cellent” Easter message!

Why did the Easter bunny stop celebrating Easter?

He had no more “ears” left to live.

Have you ever thought about why you celebrate Easter? More importantly, have you ever thought about how many more years you have left to live? Most of us love eating chocolate eggs but very few of us love thinking about what happens when we die – and while the Easter bunny isn't real, death is very real. So, where will you spend eternity? Here's how you can know for sure - ask yourself if you have kept God's moral Law, the Ten Commandments: How many lies have you told? Have you ever stolen anything? Have you ever used God's name in vain? That's called blasphemy. Have you ever held anger against someone in your heart? Do you know that God sees that as murder of the heart? If you have done these things, then God sees you as a lying, thieving, blasphemous, murderer-at-heart. What will you say on Judgment Day? Your conscience confirms that you are guilty. If you are found guilty of breaking God's Laws, your punishment will be eternity in Hell. Does that concern you? It should. There is good news, though! God came to this earth in the person of Jesus Christ to suffer and take God's wrath against you and your sin upon Himself. He suffered and died on a cross in your place, and then He rose again to new life three days later. You broke God's Law, and Jesus paid your fine! That's God's gift to you! You cannot earn a gift—you can only receive it with gratitude. To receive this gift, God commands you to repent (turn from your sins) and place your faith in Jesus Christ alone to save you. Please do that today; you may not have tomorrow. When you do, your eternal destination will be certain—Heaven. That's the real reason why Easter is worth celebrating! So, what started as a really “hare-raising” joke has ended with an “egg-cellent” Easter message!

Why did the Easter bunny stop celebrating Easter?

He had no more “ears” left to live.

Have you ever thought about why you celebrate Easter? More importantly, have you ever thought about how many more years you have left to live? Most of us love eating chocolate eggs but very few of us love thinking about what happens when we die – and while the Easter bunny isn't real, death is very real. So, where will you spend eternity? Here's how you can know for sure - ask yourself if you have kept God's moral Law, the Ten Commandments: How many lies have you told? Have you ever stolen anything? Have you ever used God's name in vain? That's called blasphemy. Have you ever held anger against someone in your heart? Do you know that God sees that as murder of the heart? If you have done these things, then God sees you as a lying, thieving, blasphemous, murderer-at-heart. What will you say on Judgment Day? Your conscience confirms that you are guilty. If you are found guilty of breaking God's Laws, your punishment will be eternity in Hell. Does that concern you? It should. There is good news, though! God came to this earth in the person of Jesus Christ to suffer and take God's wrath against you and your sin upon Himself. He suffered and died on a cross in your place, and then He rose again to new life three days later. You broke God's Law, and Jesus paid your fine! That's God's gift to you! You cannot earn a gift—you can only receive it with gratitude. To receive this gift, God commands you to repent (turn from your sins) and place your faith in Jesus Christ alone to save you. Please do that today; you may not have tomorrow. When you do, your eternal destination will be certain—Heaven. That's the real reason why Easter is worth celebrating! So, what started as a really “hare-raising” joke has ended with an “egg-cellent” Easter message!

